Serving Our Neighbors Tradeshow Pavilion – Theatre Presentations

Tue, Nov 1	Session	Presenter	Organization/Presentation
9:30am-9:50am	#1	Dr. Dan Critchett	Second Half Now Life on Purpose, Boomers go Boom – How are you finding your purpose? How are you living in your purpose? How are you staying focused on your purpose? Many Baby Boomers have found an explosion of purpose and meaning in the second half of life. Come hear how they found it, and how you can too.
10:00am-10:20am	#2	Randy Sanford	Second Half Now Re-Fire-Ment, Financing Your Retirement – How are you preparing for retirement? Are you thriving in retirement? Will your money last as long as your retirement? Most Baby Boomers are retiring with far less than they expected to. How can you use cash flow management techniques to make your money make more and make your retirement more comfortable.
10:30am-10:50am	#3	Dr. Dan Miller	Second Half Now To Your Health, Running All the Way Home – How are you getting healthy? How are you staying healthy? How are you making health insurance work for you? Most Baby Boomers will live much longer than previous generations. What can you do NOW to finish well & be there for your family, your work & your community?
11:00am-11:20am	#4	Diane Delany	Golden Placement Services Is Your Aging Loved One Safe and Happy? – Four signs it might be time to relocate an aging loved one, and the most important thing you can do when that time comes.
11:30am-11:50am	#5	Jeff Edmondson	24/7 Properties Is Your House or Rental Property Prepared? – How to prepare your property to best weather a major disaster.
1:00pm-1:20pm	#6	Dan Purkey	Dignity Memorial Protecting Your Family & Finances – Learn how to protect your loved ones emotionally and financially on the worst day of their lives and how to celebrate your life in the way you want to be celebrated.
1:30pm-1:50pm	#7	Jeff Hamilton	Nexis Preparedness Systems Effective Emergency Response – Alignment, Metrics, Practice and Improve - Effective emergency response requires careful alignment of risks, plans, resources and exercises in a holistic and comprehensive approach. When designing for effective response, key metrics, best practices, use cases and intimate knowledge of approach must be considered and understood by all. Additionally, coverage and support criteria can vary between entities such as corporate sites, health care facilities, faith based organizations, schools and universities that each have their own unique criteria and objectives.

9:30am-9:50am	#1	Stuart Funke	Transformational Finance
----------------------	-----------	---------------------	---

Preparing Financially for Any Emergency – In a major emergency with no power and with the banks are shut down, what should you have done about your money to get much needed supplies.

10:00am-10:20am	#2	Scott Rosendahl	ServPro

Empowering your Preparedness Network – Now that YOU are getting prepared at home and at work, how do you go about getting your co-workers, personal contacts and community MOTIVATED, EDUCATED, PREPARED and READY? When disaster strikes, who will you call? Any crisis will immediately trigger instant action and contact to our team (network) of experts, advisors, resources and friends. Who's on your team? Empowering your network NOW activates and strengthens the web of people that may eventually, literally, save your life!

10:30am-10:50am	#3	Eric Ufer	Pest Solutions

Critter Crisis: Collaboratively Regaining Control in Crazy & Scary Times – In a time of chaos, there will be domesticated and wild animals looking for food, water and shelter. They will also be scared with risks to us and them. We need to have a plan in place prior to the disaster, so we can properly and safely, round up and protect the animals from us and protect us from them. We should also collaborate with private, city, county, state and federal resources to ensure the best, most expedient, coordinated response and results.

11:00am-11:20am	#4	Paul Tice	Topa3D

Virtual Readiness & Protection in the Cloud – Using 3D laser scanning and high dynamic range photography in a fully integrated system, ToPa 3D demonstrates how this comprehensive documentation technology can archive any building space in 3D. Using VR goggles or any mobile device, facility managers, property owners and any other stakeholder can know exactly what assets existed in the space to ensure losses are accounted for in the insurance claims process. This technology also maps spaces in 3D, providing emergency workers a detailed working knowledge of what is in a building such as floor plans & possible hazards."

11:30am-11:50am	#5	Michael Brown	LegalShield

Legally Prepared For Your Next Emergency? – Do you have your legal documents prepared for yourself, your family & your work? Who are you going to call, 24/7, 365 days a year, boarder to boarder & coast to coast?

1:00pm-1:20pm	#6	Julie Sies	Transformational Leadership

Gaining Alignment – Disaster strikes . . . People need help! Disasters don't ask if you are the official leader or not, yet in times of crisis true leaders rise to the surface because of how they show up. During times like this, it's difficult to move forward without agreement and alignment, yet it can seem like an elusive dream, especially in an emergency situation. Ford Taylor's Transformational Leadership has developed a tool kit for conflict resolution and team agreements that will prepare you in advance for a systematic way of earning trust and knocking out conflict and destructive communication. Discover the TL tools to use in whatever situation you find yourself- even when disaster strikes.

1:30pm-1:50pm	#7	Paul Delon	Prepared Response

Technologies for Emergency Preparedness & Response – Using real world case studies, we will look at lessons learned and common problems, along with considerations when evaluating technology solutions.
